Popularity of Anime in the USA!
Rise of an Anime Convention

Grapevine, Texas, Nov. 29-Dec. 1st 2019. – This is an anime event for all anime lovers, young and old. The event takes place starting November 29 and ending on December 1, 2019 at 2334 North International Parkway, Grapevine Texas 75261, the Hyatt Regency DFW International Airport. People will have the opportunity to meet with John Swasey, the person who started this convention and learn why he started it. This event will help draw people’s attention to new conventions happening all over.

This convention will allow people to get together locally in Texas to meet other people with similar interests; and there will be something for everyone. As it is a smaller convention it will allow people to have a better chance of meeting the guests, like voice actors, translators, and even directors! Companies, such as, Funimation and Sentai Filmworks, also have a hand in, not only this convention, but many others as well. It’s another way for fans to interact and often get a say in what kind of anime these companies should get licenses for.

This convention will also bring a little bit of Japan, home of anime, to the city, with things like maid cafes and host clubs. Many, if not all, conventions are non-profit and count on volunteers and sponsorships, like Funimation, to help make these conventions a reality. This convention showcases that anime comes in all sizes, there’s something for kids and for adults. As such, this can have a great impact on the future of this convention. “I love anime conventions. They are the one place I can talk to a stranger about plots to new anime I’m enjoying...seriously, try to explain the plot to “Is It Wrong to Pick Up Girls in a Dungeon...without sounding insane to a non-anime person,” says David Ouellette, age 40 and an avid anime convention goer.
